Parents and campaigners march over proposed hospital changes

■ DORCHESTER'S Mayor has called for a celebration to show the town's appreciation and pride, following Paul Blake's amazing performance at the Paralympic Games in Rio.

Middle-distance runner Blake, who was born in the town, won Paralympic GB's 50th gold medal in the T38 400m in Rio and went on to claim silver in the T36 800m.

The athlete, who has cerebral palsy, also won silver and bronze at London 2012.

Mayor, Councillor Tim Harries said that a motion will be put forward at next week's meeting of the town council who will be keen to mark Paul's success and will be writing to him on behalf of the town.

"At the meeting we'll put together a plan for how we will celebrate," said Councillor Harries.

"Certainly everyone will be keen to mark this amazing achievement by one of our own. It's absolutely brilliant. It's clear what tremendous hard work he has put in and we'll want to formally recognise this wonderful achievement," he added.

ARTIST and fishing enthusiast Jess Douglas grew up on the Mediterranean island of Ibiza before moving to Lyme Regis with her family. A former Woodroffe School pupil, she went on to study illustration at Plymouth University and her latest work 'Lyme Caught' is inspired by her time spent working in the local fishing industry.

● WHEN did you first take an interest in art?

Both my parents were artists and they always encouraged me to paint and be creative. It's just something I've always been good at.

● DID you study art at university?

Yes, I studied Illustration at the University of Plymouth. I couldn't have asked for better tutors really. They were very supportive and knew how to push me towards my strengths. We went on a trip to New York in the second year, and that's where I found my true style. I started drawing old abandoned buildings and fairgrounds in New York, and the old painted adverts on the side of buildings and billboards were really inspiring to me. I found them to have a kind of mystery and a lost story to them.

● WHAT inspires your work now?

Since graduating in 2009 I felt quite lost without being surrounded by artistic people to bounce ideas off, and lost all inspiration to create anything. I went off and worked on super yachts in the Mediterranean for a bit. When I returned I qualified as a commercial skipper, and started crewing on one of the small fishing boats out of Lyme.

But it was only March this year that I finally found inspiration to paint again. The biggest boat in the harbour belongs to a friend of mine, it's called New Seeker. I just decided I'd paint it, without him knowing, to see if I still had it. I eventually showed him, and he loved it and bought it off me. He suggested I posted a picture of it on a Facebook page called "Fishing News" and since then it's all gone a bit mad! I have painted 24 boats to date, from Whitby, the Shetlands, Isles of Scillies, Ireland, Channel Islands and three commissions on order for America.

● WHAT medium do you like to work in?

I use paint marker pens called "Posca" (which originate in the street art scene) as well as brush markers and pen and ink.

● TELL us a little more about your latest project, 'Lyme Caught'...

Lyme Caught is the name I'm giving this current boat themed project that's ongoing. I wanted to show my support to the fishing industry which I'm in and love so much. I think fishermen get a bad press some-

I don't have a website for my boat paintings yet, but I do have Instagram - LymeCaughtIllustration or Lyme Caught Facebook page. Some of my prints are also displayed in the back street windows of the Harbour Inn down at the Cobb.

● WHAT do you enjoy about working on the boats?

I got into fishing about six years ago when I was invited out to try out fishing for bass using a rod and line. I'd never even held a fishing rod before so I was so chuffed to catch quite a few bass that day! Since then I was hooked (pardon the pun) and made sure I took all my certificates to become a qualified deck-hand, then after four years experience I could do my skipper's ticket.

My parents owned a sailing boat when I was little, when we lived in Ibiza where I grew up, so I've always had the sea in my blood, but there's some deeper connection to the sea when your fishing.

These fishermen have so much knowledge of the sea, they know the seabed like the palm of their hands; the way the tides run, and working the weather. I've so much respect for them and am massively lucky to be accepted into such a close knit working community, that in Lyme really goes unnoticed.

● WHAT do you like about living in Lyme?

Having grown up in Ibiza, there's not many places that can beat living there, but Lyme is where my roots are and it's got everything I need; the sea, beautiful views, lovely people, and the Cobb, where I spend most of my time hanging out, drinking tea, and talking about the weather with all my favourite fishermen!

Jess is currently running a competition on her Facebook page 'Lyme Caught' to win a free print of one of her boat paintings. All those who like and share her page will be entered, with the winner to be drawn at the end of September.

Police appeal for information following indecent exposure

POLICE are appealing for information following an indecent exposure incident in Puddletown near Dorchester.

Officers received reports of a man indecently exposing himself to a woman aged in her 40s while he was sitting in his car.

The incident happened on the High Street close to Londis at around 5.30pm on Tuesday, September 13th.

The offender is described as aged in his late 40s or early 50s.

Detective Constable Gerald Marchant, of Weymouth CID, said: "I would appeal to anyone who witnessed the incident or saw someone acting suspiciously in the area at the time to contact me.

"I'd also like to hear from anyone with any other information that might help my investigation.

"The local Neighbourhood Policing Team have stepped up patrols in the area to offer community reassurance."

Anyone with information is asked to contact Dorset Police at www.dorset.police.uk, via email 101@ dorset.pnn.police.uk or by calling 101, quoting incident number 13:391.

Alternatively contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555111 or via www.crimestoppers-uk.org.

Ahoy! What flag be this?

THE eagle-eyed, or should we say parrot-eyed, residents of Dorchester may have spotted the skull and crossbones flag above the Corn Exchange on Monday.

If you're wondering why, well to celebrate International Talk Like A Pirate Day of course! Some may say we wouldn't sound much different. Arr! (how rude).

Progress on town centre development must be fast say district councillors DECades of indecision about the future of Dorchester's Charles Street development may finally come to an end after councillors agreed to release funds for further work to be carried out to find a solution.

The idea of a new town centre development has been on the cards for 30 years and three developers have pulled out of projects on the site.

Phase One was completed and saw the building of the West Dorset District Council offices on South Walks, but Phase Two was abandoned in 2015.

This week West Dorset District Council's Executive Committee viewed a report carried out by GL Hearn and discussed the options, which included tidying up the car park and forgetting the whole idea or looking for a less ambitious plan for the site.

It was agreed that funds would be released to enable further work to be carried out, including discussions with larger retailers, to find a solution that would include protecting valuable car parking space.

Speaking after the meeting Councillor Alan Thacker said that they now needed to move quickly and major players must be involved. "The vital thing to do is to look at car parking as a whole, it is desperately needed to keep the whole thing viable. A new retail project could work if it reflects the current retail environment. Much has changed since the previous plans fell through and Dorchester has changed as well.

Brewery Square is excellent and we need something to compliment it. Brewery Square doesn't have the larger shops and we need to try to keep people who are currently travelling to shop in Yeovil, Bournemouth and Southampton. I think this could be a way of doing that."

"One thing we all agree on is that progress needs to be fast, so that we can have public support for whatever is viable," he added.

Businesses battle it out to be named the best in Dorset at tourism awards

RESTAURANTS, hotels and tourist attractions from across Weymouth, Dorchester and the rest of the county, will be battling it out to be named the best at the annual Dorset Tourism Awards next month.

A record 60 trophies will be presented to Dorset's leading tourism businesses and individuals at this year's awards ceremony at Bovington's Tank Museum in October.

Finalists were decided by a panel of judges based on a number of criteria including websites, reviews, social media and a programme of mystery visits, with evidence presented to a judging panel.

This year's awards saw 107 entries across 20 categories, with new awards this year for Glamping, Dog Friendly and International Tourism. Finalists were selected from across the county with businesses from Sherborne, Bournemouth, Lyme Regis, Blandford Forum, Poole, Swanage, Weymouth and Christchurch among the finalists.

Nick Fernyhough of headline sponsors Saffery Champness and a member of the judging panel said: "We are delighted to be the headline sponsor for yet another year for these prestigious awards, which reward excellence in this essential sector of the Dorset economy."

"We really like how the awards have expanded to reflect the changing shape of tourism."

Robin Barker of Services for Tourism, who created and manage the awards programme, added: "Dorset is one of England's most spectacular and attractive destinations with many outstanding tourism businesses. It is gratifying to see them being identified in this growing programme and to reward them for their innovation, dedication and excellence."

Finalists will now wait until October to find out whether they have won Gold, Silver or a Bronze award.

Successful businesses in the Dorset Awards will automatically be considered for matching categories in the South West Tourism Excellence Awards in February 2017 with the chance to go on to represent Dorset at the National VisitEngland Awards later in the year.

Finalists from Weymouth and Dorchester include: Sand World, Weymouth, in the Small Attraction of the Year award; Taste Brasserie, Dorchester, in the Café & Tearoom of the Year category; Swallows Rest B&B, Weymouth, in the Bed & Breakfast of the Year category; Bagwell Farm Touring Park, Weymouth, in the Sustainable Tourism Award category; Lancombe Country Cottages & Lodges, Dorchester, in the International Visitor Experience of the Year category; The Acorn Inn, Dorchester, in the Tourism Pub of the Year category; B+B Weymouth, Weymouth, and Bagwell Farm Touring Park, Weymouth, in the Dog Friendly Business of the Year category; Greenwood Grange, Dorchester, and Lancombe Country Cottages & Lodges, Dorchester, for the Self Catering Award; and the Dorset Burger Company, Weymouth, in the Restaurant/Bistro of the Year category.

Witness appeal following alleged assault

The victim - a 23-year-old man from Sherborne - was left unconscious following the incident, which is alleged to have involved three other men.

He sustained a fractured jaw and was taken to Poole Hospital where he underwent surgery.

Detective Constable Sean Garrett, of Weymouth

CID, said: "I am appealing to anyone who witnessed the incident or has information as to what happened to please contact Dorset Police."

A 19-year-old man from Weymouth has been arrested on suspicion of grievous bodily harm and has been released on police bail pending further enquiries until the end of October 2016.

Landlord fined for managing dangerous and over-run house

A LANDLORD has been ordered to pay costs after a court found that a property he was managing was unsafe and in poor repair.

Landlord Antone Spiroc-tica, 61, of Hanover Road, Weymouth, has been given a two-year conditional discharge and ordered to pay £3,497.40 in costs and a victim surcharge of £20 after being prosecuted by Weymouth and Portland Borough Council for offences relating to the condition and management of a house in multiple occupation.

He appeared at Weymouth Magistrates Court where he pleaded guilty to five offences relating to the property in Hanover Road.

The court heard that an environmental health officer visited the 11-bedroom house on May 13th of this year and found that it was overcrowded and in poor repair. It was being used to house 19 tenants.

Mr Spiroc-tica admitted one offence under the Housing Act 2004, namely that he was managing the property without a House in Multiple Occupation Licence.

He also admitted four offences of breaching the Management of Houses in Multiple Occupation (England) Regulations 2006. Some of the offences related to matters of fire safety as well as general disrepair.

Weymouth & Portland Borough Council worked with Dorset & Wiltshire Fire and Rescue Service on parts of this case.

After the case, Councillor Gill Taylor, Weymouth & Portland Borough Council's Housing Briefholder, said: "Landlords that let dangerous and run-down accommodation must and will be prosecuted. This sends out a strong message that we will not tolerate dangerous and poor accommodation for residents."

"However, I'd also like to stress that prosecutions are a last resort. We are committed to working with landlords so they are made aware of problems and know their responsibilities. We can advise, guide and assist them to improve their properties. However, if landlords refuse to improve, we will take action."

Police appeal for dash cam footage

POLICE are appealing for dash cam or CCTV footage following alleged dangerous driving in Weymouth.

Officers received reports from a member of the public that they had witnessed a green Renault Megane driving dangerously on previous occasions in the Chapelhay area of the town.

At around 3.15pm on Monday, September 12th the vehicle was spotted by police at Boot Hill. The vehicle did not stop for officers when requested.

The car was seen to travel along Westwey Road, turning left onto Abbotsbury Road, onto Pottery Lane, then to Longcroft Road and Corporation Road. The car was found abandoned a short time later along Bedford Road.

A 21-year-old Weymouth man was arrested at a nearby address on suspicion of driving offences and is currently on police bail until the middle of October 2016 pending further enquiries.

Police Constable Brian Di Stefano, of Weymouth police, said: "I am appealing to anyone who may have witnessed the vehicle being driven in the area at the time and has any information that can assist with my investigation.

"I would also ask that anyone who has dash cam or CCTV footage of the vehicle driving through Weymouth please contacts me."

Anyone with information is asked to contact Dorset Police at www.dorset.police.uk, via email 101@ dorset.pnn.police.uk or by calling 101, quoting incident number 12:286.

Anger at proposed changes to 'vital' hospital services

By Claire Vera

THERE was another large turnout for the third march in support of hospital services in Dorchester.

Campaigners are angry at the proposed closure of the Kingfisher children's ward and Special Care Baby Unit at Dorset County Hospital, along with other proposed changes to NHS services in the county.

The proposals have been put forward as part of the Clinical Services Review and a public consultation on the future of services in the county is due to be held at some point in the autumn, although no date has yet been set.

Local parent Naomi Patterson set up the campaign to save the Kingfisher children's ward and the Special Care Baby Unit at Dorset County Hospital after hearing about proposals to close them and transfer services to the east of the county.

"My son contracted meningitis back in 2008 and now lives with a life threatening illness, so we spend a lot of our time up at the Kingfisher ward. When the proposals in the Clinical Services Review came to light I knew for us and for many other people it would be impossible to cope with the travel. We also know that A&E would not be able to cope overnight without the Kingfisher ward. It would put extra pressure on both the A&E and the Ambulance Service."

"The situation is causing a lot of anxiety. We have to show the Clinical Commissioning Group that they must work with us, to consider every need in every area, before they make these ridiculous proposals."

Lisa Hopkins from Poundbury said she'd joined the march because of the maternity unit.

"I had a still birth at 36 weeks, back in March and they were very very supportive and I have another one on the way so I am very concerned about the possible changes. I would be so anxious about travelling so far if anything happened. I also spent a lot of my childhood in Kingfisher ward because of heart problems, so this is a big big thing. There will certainly be a lot of angry people if it moves."

Jenny Legg from Dorchester said this was the first time she had been on a march.

"My daughter has bad asthma and she has been in Kingfisher ward quite a few times. So if it wasn't there the journey we'd have to make wouldn't be good at all. And both of my children were delivered by emergency caesarean. I think there is a lot of support for this campaign."

West Dorset resident Billy Bragg joined the march through the town.

"I think it is very very important that we keep the ability for children to get 24/7 treatment here in Dorchester. It's a long way to travel to Bournemouth. Anyone who has their kid in hospital, you're going to want to be there as much as you can. I remember when my little brother was unconscious for six weeks after a car accident and my mum and my nan were there all the time. So the idea of having to travel so far is a dreadful one, that's why I wanted to come along today. It's important to us all here, particularly for those who live 30 minutes away from Dorchester, I think that's far enough already."

In a statement Dr Forbes Watson, Chair of NHS Dorset Clinical Commissioning Group said: "Since the launch of the Clinical Services Review we have had several meetings with representatives of the Save SCBU and Kingfisher group to discuss the recommendations for local services and understand their concerns. An outcome of the last meeting was a number of planned activities including focus groups with users of local services which we are trying to finalise.

"In order to ensure people can find out more about the recommendations for maternity and paediatric care we have published a summary via our social media channels. Alternatively it is available via www.dorsetsvision.nhs.uk

"As we have been clear about since the launch of the Clinical Services Review, no decisions will be made until we have taken account of the views that will be collected during the public consultation."

"During the consultation we want as many people as possible to have their say so are encouraging people to find out more via www.dorsetsvision.nhs.uk or to sign up for our email newsletter by joining our Health Involvement Network. We also encourage people to follow us on social media for the latest updates."

"Details of the public consultation will be publicised widely once we are able to confirm the details".

Twinning links stay strong despite Brexit

WEYMOUTH Mayor Richard Kosior has backed the idea of international twinning during a visit to the French twin town of Louviers in Normandy.

Speaking in his capacity as President of the Weymouth & Portland Louviers Society at a civic reception given by Louviers mayor Francois-Xavier Priollaud, he said: "Town twinning, as an official relationship builder, started in Europe after the Second World War. The idea was to repair damaged relationships between European countries and the UK; including towns that suffered during the war and twin them. They encourage people from these areas to meet, mix and get along. That's why town twinning - at its core - is a good and important thing."

The mayor was accompanied by mayoress Caroline Churchill and 20 English members, including Chairman

Geoff McDonnell.

The twinning link between the two towns had been formed in 1958 with the aim of strengthening links between Weymouth and Louviers.

Mr McDonnell thanked the French Mayor and twinning committee for the warmth of their welcome and generous hospitality, and said: "We know just how much hard work and organisation goes into preparing and running these twinning weekends, so we would like to express our appreciation of the efforts of Jacqueline Hamon and the French committee."

Mr McDonnell told members that a website was being established, with Weymouth's German twin, Holzwiede twinning society, to promote both groups.

A Facebook page is also being considered.

"I am pleased to say that despite Brexit, these important cultural exchanges will continue between our two countries," said the chairman.

The mayor and mayoress travelled to Louviers by coach with the English delegation, stopping at Caen and Cabourg on the way.

They later visited the museum at Villers-sur-Mer. One highlight was the Sunday excursion to Les Andelys for a medieval banquet at a hotel on the banks of the River Seine, followed by a visit to Chateau Gaillard, built by Richard the Lionheart in 1196.

Louviers is a market town in Normandy, 22 miles south of Rouen. The reciprocal visit to Weymouth will be in May 2017.

Enquiries about joining the Louviers Society should be directed to Ted Nicklin at 01305 771773.

Free workshop and car checks to help cut road deaths

DORSET Police has announced it is to hold a series of Road Safe evening workshops in order to help improve road safety across the county.

In Weymouth the free event will be held on the evening of Tuesday 4th October at the SafeWise centre on Radiopole Lane.

The workshops are being run in conjunction with Dorset & Wiltshire Fire and Rescue Service, SafeWise and Kwik Fit and will be funded directly from Driver Awareness Scheme course payments paid by motorists who break the law and compromise the safety of other road users.

The session will cover general road user information, the 'Fatal Five' causes of collisions and what you can do to reduce the likelihood of being involved yourself.

There will be an opportunity to speak with the Neighbourhood Policing Team and Community Speed Watch Liaison Officer about what is available to keep you and your family safe on Dorset roads.

A Kwik Fit representative will also be on hand to assist with basic car safety checks and hand out car goody bags and vouchers.

Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner, Martyn Underhill, said: "Between 2010 and 2015, road death statistics in Dorset have varied year on year from 17 to 26 fatalities.

"The unpredictable nature of collisions underlines the importance of ensuring all road users get refresher education to reduce the likelihood of being involved in such tragedies."

Proposed boundary changes in South Dorset constituency

THE South Dorset parliament constituency - which includes Weymouth and Portland - could see changes to its boundaries as part of a nationwide electoral shake-up.

The Boundary Commission released proposals last week which would see the number of MPs in England and Wales being cut from 533 to 501.

More than £60million would be saved over five years if the plans went ahead, with the number of South West MPs being reduced from 55 to 53.

Under the plans, the whole of the Puddletown ward would be incorporated into South Dorset (it is currently split between West and South Dorset) along with the Broadmayne and Crossways ward from the West Dorset constituency.

Meanwhile, the Bere Regis, St Martin and Wareham wards would move from the Mid Dorset and North Poole constituency to South Dorset.

The changes would see an increase in the number of people South Dorset MP Richard Drax would be representing in Westminster should he be re-elected at the next general election.

Appeal for help at market

PORLAND Country Market is appealing for help in attracting new cooks, producers and growers.

The event, which is held every Friday from 9am-11.30am in the Community 2000 hall at Easton, is making the appeal because several of its producers have given up due to poor health, lack of home-grown plants and vegetables and other reasons.

So the Market is looking for producers in the way of cooks and also jams and preserves, fruit and vegatable growers and general crafts.

Organisers say they would also like help in the market on Fridays and they want to hear from anyone who can produce any of these items or who is interested in joining the Country Market.

Those interested should please call in to the market on Friday mornings or telephone, 01305-823605.

Dancing through time

A HISTORICAL Dance Society is running a series of classes on 17th and 18th century dance and music in Dorchester, featuring the talents of Baroque musicians based in the South West.

The Dorchester group meets in St George Church Hall on the first Thursday evening of the month. The programme covers a mixture of dances from around 1700, from the lively "Comical Fellow" to the stately "Mr Beveridge's Maggot" seen in several Jane Austen films.

Of particular relevance to Dorchester is the dance "Twenty Ninth of May", first published in 1686. This was the birthday of King Charles II, and the date of his triumphal return to England after fleeing to France in 1651. During his flight he hid from the pursuing Roundheads in a huge oak tree, as described by a large notice in the Royal Oak, High West Street. This and many other pubs took their name as part of the celebrations for the restoration of the English monarchy.

For details on attending the historical dance classes, contact Ann Hinckliffe on 01935 472771.

Civic society talks

DORCHESTER Civic Society say there has never been a better time to join their activities.

In addition to monitoring developments in the town, the society has a programme of guest speakers for the months ahead. The hot topics - population growth, housing, tourism and retail - will all be discussed.

Later in the year Hilary Jordan, of Dorset Councils Partnership, will talk about the Local Plan Review and the big decisions needed to develop the town to 2036.

Other speakers at future meetings will talk about Dorchester's affordable housing needs and opportunities - the Prison Site development and the need to balance retail and tourism, with the example of Winchester being cited as an example of how it can be managed.

The society will also launch an awards scheme this year and will be asking for the public's help in selecting the pick of projects over the last two years.

marriage proposal at festival

THANKS to the dedicated cider drinkers who attended the Dorchester Cider Festival, Dorchester Round Table were able to raise £3,500 for distribution to local good causes.

The day started with the arrival of the save SCBU and Kingfisher Ward march at the Borough Gardens.

After their speeches Billy Bragg played and officially opened the festival.

Local singer Danny Adams gave a storming opening performance, which set the scene for a day of varied and well received acts across the two stages.

The Jimmy Hillbillies "chicken train" conga line was a highlight on the main stage while the Dorset Wrecks were well received in the Cider Village with a rousing performance of sea shanties on the Sam Scaffolding stage.

Performances were also enjoyed from The Darwins, Blazing Strings, Lee Ames, Carlos Heath, Chris Roberts and Jack Humphries before an Irish rock finale by Neck.

Cider producers from across Dorset attended and served more than 80 varieties of cider to the thirsty crowds.

Security teams estimate visitor numbers peaked at around 2,500 people in the gardens with a steady flow coming and going at the free event throughout the day, and a large family presence enjoying the day.

Round Table chairman Lee Turner said: "Dorchester Round Table would like to thank everyone for attending and creating an enjoyable, safe and family friendly atmosphere which our members enjoyed being a part of as much as our guests tell us they did."

"It's our second year of running this event and we're pleased with how well this year's festival additions were received. We'll be debriefing this week and inviting feedback from our visitors so that we can try to make Dorchester Cider Festival 2017 even better."

The Round Table would also like to congratulate Steve Frampton from Dorchester and Kay Baker from Shaftesbury on their Cider Festival engagement.

Steve, with the help of the Jimmy Hillbillies, got down on one knee on the main stage to propose and Kay said yes.

■ TO find out how the money raised is distributed and about future events you can follow the Dorchester Round Tables Facebook page.

The Round Table are looking for new members to join them and will be holding open recruitment evenings in the coming months to increase the team size in an effort to build on the success of this year's events for the town.

Army of poppy makers begin work on WWI tank memorial

WORK has started to stitch tens of thousands of poppies to strips of material which will then be used to cover a tank at Bovington Tank Museum.

The poppy project is being carried out by the Let's Make It group in Weymouth.

Organiser Julie Hursthause said: "This is a new project for us which is partly linked to the 2016 poppy appeal."

"Our aim is to use poppies to cover a tank at Bovington Tank Museum as well as other military artefacts."

"We have so far made more than 26,000 poppies towards our target of 75,000 poppies, each one of which will represent ten soldiers recorded killed in World War I."

"To start with we will have an art installation at Weymouth Library including a cannon, a soldier, a horse and windows covered in poppies to depict a massive wreath."

"In the future our poppy sheets will be taken to Bovington Tank Museum and used to cover a tank as part of 2018 commemorations being planned to mark the centenary of the end of World War I."

She added that it was the biggest project that the Let's Make It group had ever tackled because they have had people joining in with them from right across Dorset.

Julie said: "We have partners making poppies from Lyme Regis, Bridport, Sherborne and Bournemouth and from many villages and many WIs as well as sheltered homes, brownies and beavers, a real army of poppy makers!"

"The project crosses all ages from as young as four years to as old as 99 and it will hopefully be completed in about two years time."

A friendly visit from The Scary Guy

PORLAND Mayor Sandy West has praised the work of the Isle of Portland Aldridge Community Academy for its work to tackle bullying after attending a training session with The Scary Guy.

The multi-tattooed speaker made an appearance at the Portland Academy's new multi-million pound Maritime House Campus.

Said Councillor West: "I've had a fantastic time at IPACA today with The Scary Guy. Truly inspirational. His interaction with the children was just so impressive he really knew his stuff."

'The Scary Guy' is a former tattoo artist who used to own three tattoo studios and whose own personal tattoos cover 85 per cent of his body. He now acts as a comedian, philosopher and educator and has been working with IPACA during the past year to develop a respectful IPACA community. He has been speaking to children, staff and even parents and members of the community about developing personal strategies to deal with bullying, name-calling and negative behaviour.

After spending years being judged for his appearance and drawing negative attention and daily prejudice from strangers, the Scary Guy stopped his work as a tattoo artist and has spent the last 16 years working in schools across the world addressing issues of anti-social behaviour.

As well as working in schools, 'Scary' has worked in prisons, detention centres, police forces and the military.

In his programme he describes the impact that people's words and actions have on others, their confidence and perception of other.

The programme is unique though and doesn't just focus on bullies, how to control behaviour or how to deal with incidents after they've happened but tries to focus on a preventative approach.

IPACA principal, Joss Hayes, said: "Scary empowers young people to understand their behaviour and choose what to do themselves."

"His approach is extremely effective and it is fantastic to welcome him back to IPACA and the Portland Community – after all, young people cannot succeed academically or socially without feeling safe and happy in their school environment."

Cheers! Dorset brewery raises a glass to superfast broadband

A DORSET brewery has told how faster broadband has helped transform its business operations.

Piddle Brewery makes beer, cider and lager at its base near Piddlehinton, near Dorchester. It sells to pubs, hotels, shops and the general public via the internet.

Managing Director Ian Siddall recently upgraded the brewery's broadband service.

He said: "We do our route planning on the world wide web, we do our accounts, we do our sales . . . I think the only thing we don't do on the internet is brew the beer."

"This is the future. The world is changing to an integrated computer model and if you're not on board you will be a dinosaur in five years' time."

Piddle Brewery is currently too far from the nearest fibre enabled cabinet to benefit from faster speeds. The business receives its superfast broadband from Wessex Internet, which used fixed wireless technology to provide the service.

Director Matthew Skipsey said: "Wessex Internet is pleased to support a micro-brewery in the heart of the Dorset countryside.

"Ironically the Piddlehinton Enterprise Park was not a very well-connected part of Dorset before our arrival. A local Wessex Internet Point of Presence was installed onto a new building on the park in 2014. From this site, we can deliver up to 50 Mb/s superfast broadband services across the park via a fixed-wireless connection, independent of the copper wires.

"This means we can provide customers on the Enterprise Park with a superfast and reliable internet service for the first time, as the copper lines are too long to support any improved service on the already-upgraded fibre to the cabinet that the park connects back to.

"It's fantastic to hear the impact that our superfast reliable Internet service is having on the Piddle Brewery's business."

Superfast broadband and its associated technologies can help businesses become more efficient and grow in many ways:

- Work collaboratively. Online file-sharing and video-conferencing mean you can communicate faster with other people wherever they are, and reduce time spent travelling

- Work in real time. No more annoying lags when using online applications or pauses for media-heavy files

- Higher turnover. Businesses adopting the power of digital experience higher turnover and funding than their less digital counterparts

- Reach more customers. People in the UK love online shopping - we spent £52.25 billion online in 2015. You can reach a global market potentially gaining new customers worldwide

- Boost the economy. Dorset will be a more attractive location for businesses, providing continued employment and new high tech jobs in rural areas

B Sharp

Music helps the brain!

SINCE it formed in 2007 Lyme Regis-based music charity B Sharp has seen thousands of lives transformed by the power of playing music.

The link between music and improving the mind is well established and through its weekly groups and other regular events hosted by music leaders who are experienced composers, musicians, singer-songwriter and technicians, B Sharp provides continuous training to nurture young talent within the community.

The broad programme of music making includes large-scale community festivals, high profile regional performances and bespoke commissions as well as the weekly term-time music making programmes for musicians and singers from the age of eight, plus a training scheme for young and emerging leaders.

"Wherever you are, there's always a pathway to further your ability with B Sharp. This kind of training is a rare thing," says current music leader and former trainee Matt Hartnell.

Playing music has been shown to improve brain function, boost mental health, promote learning and increase memory. That has lead to a generation of young people being able to build social confidence and skills to transfer into school, future training and employment. Many of those who take part in B Sharp have gone on to become professional musicians, music leaders and to work in other creative industries, inspiring others to follow suit.

"Through our unique traineeship and apprenticeship programmes that provide opportunities for young people to work alongside more experienced professionals we are able to grow our own future music leaders," says B Sharp CEO Fran Williams. "Our leadership training and professional development helps ensure that all young people are welcomed and supported to progress musically and socially within our programmes and work with partners to offer that training across the region."

B Sharp is now recruiting new members aged 8 to 19 to sign up to its weekly music making projects and welcome enquiries from prospective trainees, emerging and professional music leaders.

Funkee Munkees

FUNKEE Munkees is a new music-based educational playgroup for pre-school children in Bridport, Axminster and Charmouth providing a fun and stimulating environment for both children and their parents/carers.

Sessions last approximately 35 minutes. This includes group singing of new and established songs, using both live and pre-recorded music, with a balance between learning and a fun environment. The children are also invited to participate using age-appropriate instruments, dancing and other movement. Parents and carers remain with their children throughout the sessions to encourage the children's participation, but also to encourage the parents themselves to become involved in an environment which is as friendly and supportive for them as it is for their children.

"My granddaughter who is 4 thoroughly enjoyed this. There was a wide range of children from 0 to 5 and it was lovely seeing them playing with the instruments and the puppets. Declan is excellent with the children."

The first taster session is free; thereafter, sessions are sold in groups of 5 flexi-tickets for £30, which also includes a sixth session free. Attendance need not be on consecutive weeks - tickets are valid for a year. For more information, please see funkeemunkees.co.uk or contact Declan on 07947 528568.

Chard School

CELEBRATES 345 YEARS OF HISTORY

ONE of the oldest schools in the country, Chard School has been educating children in its historic buildings since 1671, and this year celebrated its 345th anniversary in style, with a trip back in time for the current pupils, culminating in a pageant through the town. The school buildings themselves, which contain two spiral staircases and a wealth of period features, remind everyone of a certain famous wizarding school and, just as at Hogwarts, the atmosphere at Chard is truly unique.

This forthcoming academic year the school continues to move forward, with a healthy increase in pupil numbers. Our pupils are happy and motivated learners who truly benefit from the individual tuition our small classes can give them, and who also have the opportunities to become involved in the many artistic, musical and sporting activities that are on offer. Our next Open Morning will be on Saturday 8th October, 9.30-11.30am. Visitors will have the opportunity to meet staff and pupils, have a tour of our extensive facilities and take in our wonderful historical buildings on the way! For more information contact the school office on 01460 63234 or visit www.chardschool.co.uk.

The Sir John Colyfox Academy

WE would be delighted to welcome you to our Open Day/Evening on 28th September. Once again the Sir John Colyfox Academy has enjoyed a very successful year in examination results at GCSE and A Level; our students have done themselves proud! Our exciting and innovative curriculum continues to offer students a wide choice of subjects and academic pathways. Our 6th form is growing rapidly and a new partnership with Yeovil College is offering students a much wider variety of courses at Post 16.

However, we believe that a first class education is about much more than just exam results. We aspire for all our students to have a school experience that gives them access to a wide range of extra-curricular activities. Whether it is through sport, drama, art, music, school trips, languages, Duke of Edinburgh, our PIXL Edge programme or even public speaking teams; we hope that everyone will take up the opportunities that will add that all important 'extra' to their school experience. Our House system plays an especially important role, enabling our students to feel a sense of belonging and taking on important leadership roles. We are particularly proud of the way our older students support our younger students.

We warmly welcome you to come and meet us and see which aspects of school life might fire your child's imagination.

Charmouth Primary School

AS ever, it has been a busy time at Charmouth Primary School. The last academic year ended well with lots to celebrate! Our Key Stage One and Key Stage Two SATs results were not only above the national average but demonstrated yet more improvement compared with last year. Following our recent Ofsted Inspection, our school was judged as good, reflecting the hard work of our dedicated team and enthusiastic children.

At Charmouth Primary School 'Beach School' is well established and we have continued the new academic year, with learning taking part on the beach to topic work. We are particularly privileged to be in such a fantastic location and with the proven positive outcomes that outside learning provides, we take every opportunity to extend our curriculum beyond the classroom. Last year, children enjoyed: cooking, shelter building, mapping, history, poetry and art, all on the beach!

The development of our preschool group, Barnacles, continues to be a priority. We look forward to involving the preschool children in Beach School and Wellie Walks in the local area. If you have a child who is due to start school in September 2017, they can join Barnacles this in the term prior to starting school. It will be held on Monday afternoons from 1.10pm – 3.10pm and there is no charge for the sessions! Our Barnacles group provides a smooth transition to Primary School, helping the children to become confident in and around the school environment, and build positive relationships with their peers and staff.

We are constantly developing and enriching our curriculum to provide our children with new and exciting experiences. Last year, children from all our classes took part in an art exhibition, every child exhibited a piece of artwork by an artist. Everyone engaged enthusiastically in the project and the children were extremely proud of their work. This academic year, we are planning an art exhibition as part of our curriculum learning.

At Charmouth Primary School, our aim is for every child to become a confident, creative and independent learner, nurtured in a safe, caring and happy environment that promotes challenge and adventure.

10 WAYS TO PREPARE YOUR CHILD FOR SCHOOL

Banish first-day jitters for your child and for yourself!

www.parents.com

STARTING school can be a difficult time for children. Every child is hesitant to go somewhere new and see people she's never met before. Here are some helpful ways to prepare your child for her first day of school:

1. Let your child know what his schedule will be like. Tell him what time school begins and ends each day.
2. Ask your child about her feelings - both the excitement and the concerns - about starting school.
3. Visit the school with your child to see his new classroom and meet his new teacher before school officially starts.
4. Point out the positive aspects of starting school. It will be fun and she can make new friends.
5. Let your child know that all kids are nervous about the first day of school.
6. Leave a note in your child's lunchbox that will remind him you're thinking of him while he's at school.
7. Reassure your child that if any problems arise at school, you will be there to help resolve them.
8. Try to have your child meet a classmate before the first day of school so she will already have a friend when school starts.
9. Arrange for your child to walk to school or ride together on the bus with another kid in the neighborhood.
10. Find out about after-school activities that your child can join. Will there be a back-to-school party? Can he/she join a sports team?

GET KIDS BACK TO NATURE

INSTEAD of going outside and exploring the natural world, most

By Lisa Salmon, Press Association

modern kids now spend the majority of their time indoors, staring at a screen.

But why not combine the two, asks expert forager and mum-of-six Fiona Bird.

The author of new book Let Your Kids Go Wild Outside, believes there's nothing better for the whole family than exploring countryside, woods and beaches, and foraging for food. But she accepts that technology is now part of life, and says it can be a great tool for helping wild explorers identify and learn about everything they find in the natural world.

"I find it useful to take my iPhone down to the beach or into the countryside to identify things," she says.

"Instead of playing on a computer game, kids can go outside and discover something, and then find out about it with their technology. Get outside, and then you can come back and sit on the sofa with your iPad."

"Technology is here to stay and it's incredibly useful. You're not doing any harm by using tech to help you find out about the natural world."

FORGOTTEN WONDERS

Bird, 57, divides her time between Angus in Scotland and the Outer Hebridean Isle of South Uist, where her husband is the local doctor. She's a bit of a whizz in the kitchen after she's been foraging for ingredients, and was once a MasterChef finalist.

"I wrote the book because I felt a lot of the things I'd done as a child were in danger of being forgotten, so I thought I'd document them," she says.

The book is split into chapters for various natural habitats, including Woods, Meadows, and Seashore, and as well as easy-to-understand information about conservation guidelines and tips on how to forecast the weather, Bird teaches young readers how to identify different insects, plants, fungi and seaweed, and explains various simple outdoor craft projects, including making pot pourri, leaf bunting or a conker necklace, and building a woodland wig-wam.

HUNTER GATHERERS

The book also features My Wild Garden and Kitchen, where you can find recipes using foraged ingredients, including wild garlic parcels and bilberry and sorrel seed muffins.

Bird is an experienced forager herself, and has written a book about the hunt for natural food, The Forager's Kitchen. She explains that while a simple walk in the countryside might not entice kids out of the house, the lure of finding food may just swing it.

"You might have to frogmarch your kids out for a walk, especially if the weather's bad, whereas when you go out to forage and you're poking about like hunter gatherers, it becomes more of an adventure and you lose the concept of time - it's always the bush a little bit further away that might have more exciting things in it."

RISK AVERSE

Bird says modern society doesn't encourage children to take risks, and the result is often that parents feel safer with their kids sitting inside staring at a screen rather than playing outside and enjoying the natural world.

"Some people think they can't possibly let their kids go wild because they don't know who they're going to come across and they worry about the risk."

"But I'm not really suggesting that, I'm suggesting that an adult makes time to do this with the kids, and it's a joint learning opportunity."

OWN BACK YARD

And the nature enthusiast is keen to stress that travelling miles into the countryside isn't necessary for children to discover the natural world.

"You don't need to spend hours in a car, you can do it in your own neighbourhood," she says.

"And if you do it in your own back yard, it reduces the amount of time a parent needs to be involved if necessary."

She explains that as you often don't see wildlife when you're in the countryside, she came up with the idea of throwing flour down in the back garden to see how many cats, dogs or birds had walked over it.

"Then take that idea to the countryside," she suggests.

"Get a magnifying glass and a cobweb, and kids can learn about the natural world in their own back garden. You don't have to go miles out."

WILD FAMILY

And the mum, whose children are all grown-up, insists that, rather than parents just taking young children to splash in puddles or go on bug hunts, finding out about the wonders of the wild is something the whole family should do together, whether children are young or old.

"With little kids it's easy - they want to splash in puddles, and they do it naturally. But I wanted to get families to explore outside together, and get older kids out there too."

"I want to encourage people to get outside and see what's there for them. By getting outside too, parents can learn what kids need to watch out for, as well as what's good to take back and use in the kitchen, or dye with."

"When you want quality time, getting outside and learning about nature is a huge opportunity for a shared learning experience. There's just so much out there."

• Let Your Kids Go Wild Outside is published by Cico Books, £12.99. Available now.

Dorset's healthcare heroes honoured

OUTSTANDING staff and volunteers at Dorset's hospitals who go the extra mile to help patients have been honoured at a local healthcare 'Oscars' event.

The Dorset HealthCare 2016 Heroes Awards celebrated the efforts of workers in services and locations across the county, who have made a real difference over the past year.

Held this year at the Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy, the event showcased hard work carried out by staff throughout the Trust, which provides a range of community and inpatient physical and mental health services.

The 2016 award winners were:

Being a Learning Organisation – the Dysphagia Awareness Training Team, based in Dorchester. The team has delivered training to more than 2,000 NHS, social care and private sector health workers over the past 10 years to help improve care of people with swallowing disorders.

Compassion and Kindness – Tracy Hardy, Housekeeping Assistant at Wareham Hospital. Tracy regularly performs unprompted, heart-warming acts of kindness and generosity for patients, showing real compassion for people in need.

Improving Lives – James Tyson, Staff Nurse at St Ann's Hospital in Poole. James led efforts to raise more than £1,000 to help a terminally ill service user whose flat was burgled while in hospital.

Everyone Counts - the Assertive Outreach Team, based in Weymouth and Portland. The team works with people who have very complex mental health needs, who can become marginalised and isolated from society. They show patience, sensitivity and tenacity in finding ways to help these people on the road to recovery.

Working Together for Patients – the IT and SystemOne Team. The team provided incredible support for the establishment of the new Weymouth and Portland Urgent Care Centre in July, ensuring IT equipment and telephone systems were ready from day one.

Commitment to Quality of Care – Rachel Sadler, Community Mental Health Nurse at Fair-mile House in Christchurch. Unprompted, Rachel helped bring about changes to ensure her team could cope with heavy demand and see referred patients within four weeks.

Bank Work – Mairead Bailey, HealthCare Assistant at Bridport Hospital. Mairead regularly helps out with last-minute cover on the wards (even on Christmas Eve), is always cheerful and has a fantastic way with patients.

Volunteering – Bronwell Cattell, at Melcombe Day Hospital in Weymouth, and Keith Fursman at Bridport Community Hospital. Bronwen helps out two days a week, organising lunches and encouraging patient involvement, and is positive, enthusiastic and energetic. Keith gives up his time to look after the hospital's flower beds and, over the years, has raised more than £3,000 to help plant the outside spaces with flowers.

Leadership and Management – Samantha

Pamela Rowlands Homoeopathy

HOMOEOPATHY is powerful because it addresses not only the physical symptoms but also the mental and emotional. When the appropriate homoeopathic remedy is given, patients often feel much better and happier, as well as their symptoms receding.

For Homoeopathy to be effective the remedies must be given according to homoeopathic principles, they give the body a nudge and the healing process begins.

Your appointment with me

Your first appointment can last for up to two hours and follow-ups are initially a month apart for about $\frac{3}{4}$ hour. I need to have a thorough understanding of you and the symptoms you are experiencing in order to find the most similar remedy. I shall then consider your experience and prescribe on the symptoms you have given me.

I have recently attended and passed a major course on treating patients with symptoms relating to the autistic spectrum, my name is now on the international register of CEASE Therapists and I am happy to talk the treatment through with interested parents.

I am fully registered and insured with the Society of Homeopaths and practice according to the Society of Homeopath's code of ethics and my practice is in Lyme Regis and Poundbury.

5 REASONS TO TAKE UP PILATES

SOME love the rhythm and solitude of a long Sunday morning run, others get their kicks from the squeals of rubber soles and balls whizzing high-speed around a squash court, while clipping a lead on the dog and braving whatever elements for a stroll on the beach does it for many. When it comes to moving our bodies, it's different strokes for different folks.

But there's one form of exercise that ticks so many boxes and offers so many benefits - all of which many of us greatly need in our 'Stress Epidemic', tech-addicted, 'Sitting down is the new smoking!' lives - that whatever else you enjoy, you'd do well to consider giving it a go.

Like thousands of others, it was back pain that first led me to a Pilates studio (just a bog-standard room at the local leisure centre; you don't have to fork out for fancy classes), and it's the closest thing to a panacea I've ever discovered, doing far more than simply improving my posture and providing a top-to-toe stretch.

Here are five reasons to take up Pilates...

It encourages us to think of our body and mind as one

"Pilates in its gentlest form is very much a mind/body discipline. It calms you both inside and out, connecting you to your deeper core muscles," notes personal trainer and Pilates instructor, Mary Huckle (www.breakthroughfitness.co.uk). Many ancient health philosophies - which, remember, informed much of modern medicine - revolve around holistic principles, which basically means that body and mind are linked. It's something Western societies have lost touch with in modern times, but we only have to look at ourselves and our own experiences to be reminded just how true it is that physical and emotional health are closely intertwined: how you get more colds when you're stressed; why that headache intensifies when you're under pressure; how positive distractions can take the edge off that sore knee..." Holistic exercise is the 'buzz' in the industry right now, and Pilates is hugely popular. It's a challenging deep-core workout, but is much kinder to body and mind. It allows you to be mindful and focus on the inside, and encourages slower-paced movement based around great technique. The perfect way to take time out, while still getting an amazing feel-good workout!" says Elaine Denton, personal trainer and group health and fitness support for David Lloyd Clubs (www.davidlloyd.co.uk).

It could make you a better runner/cyclist/tennis player, etc...

If you think Pilates isn't 'your thing', because you prefer a particular sport or more vigorous exercise, think again. A strong core, good alignment and even better breathing technique will all help support your body in your fitness pursuits elsewhere. A good core isn't just about blitzing those abs crunches; there's far more to it - and investing a little time in it through Pilates could pay dividends in terms of boosting your overall performance in whatever exercise you enjoy and preventing injury. "In terms of runners, sometimes a slight imbalance in the body will go on to create problems because it's such a repetitive movement you're doing. Even a small adjustment in your posture or in your core stability can make a huge impact," says Lynne Robinson, founder of Body Control Pilates (www.bodycontrolpilates.com).

It can help with chronic pain management

Of course, anybody with a medical condition or chronic pain problems should seek professional advice before embarking on any new exercise regime - but providing you listen to your body, start gently and stay within your limits, Pilates could become a central, possibly even life-changing, part of how you manage your condition in the long-term, both physically and psychologically. Strengthening your core and keeping muscles loose can help to support your body, removing strain from joints, for example. Pilates can also provide a gentle way of keeping your circulation up, hopefully helping relieve pain over time and bring about an often much-needed sense of doing something positive for your body. "Exercise is being described as the new drug, and in particular Pilates is being prescribed by more and more GPs as either an alternative to drugs or as a complementary therapy. It also has proven benefits for sufferers of neurological conditions, as well as the more common postural alignment benefits, for example, improving lower back pain and in certain cases, even avoiding surgery," says Huckle.

It relieves stress

Fans of Pilates are well aware that it works wonders for the mind as well as the body, and a recent study found Pilates really does help us deal with mental and emotional stress. "The scientists at the University of Pittsburgh have identified a circuit, which directly links part of the brain to the adrenal medulla (this is the inner part of the adrenal gland, which triggers an adrenal surge when we feel stressed). The very same network is also associated with the part of our brain which controls movements," explains Robinson.

Physiotherapists often recommend it

When you have a history of injuries or musculoskeletal problems, perhaps associated with back pain (as we know, extremely common in the UK!), it's easy to think you need to avoid physical activity as much as possible. Experts are increasingly trying to highlight that, in fact, the opposite is true, and staying as regularly active as possible is actually vital in managing such problems. Of course, some people may need rest periods and you'll still need to be sensible, but there's good reason a lot of physiotherapists encourage patients to take up gentle Pilates. "Pilates sessions can really help manage back pain. At Boost Physio, we have special remedial Pilates sessions and classes for women suffering from back pain or recovering from injuries. We work with our clients on safely strengthening the core posture, deep abdominal muscles and pelvic floor muscles that protect and support the spine. This is ideal for women recovering from back injuries or spine problems and regular Pilates sessions are fantastic for recovery, long term pain management and prevention", says Laura Herman of Boost Physio (boostphysio.com).

Lyme Bay Dentistry

The Whole Tooth

Your dental health questions answered by Lyme Bay Dentistry, Lyme Regis

QUESTION: I've heard that you can replace a missing tooth with an implant. What is it and how does it work?

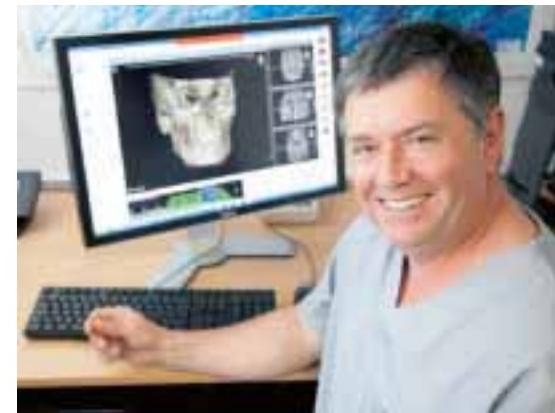

Dr Phil Bennett Dentist with a special interest in Implants. BDS Lond 1978 LDS RCS (Eng) 1979 GDC 52604: "A dental implant is a small metal rod or screw, which is placed in the gum to act as a root replacement and hold false teeth in place. Different types of implants can be used to replace a single tooth, several teeth, or a full mouth of teeth, and can last for a long time.

Usually made of titanium, the metal rod slowly fuses with the jawbone as it heals. The false teeth fitted to the implants are then designed carefully to match the exact colouring and texture of any existing teeth, ensuring they look perfectly natural.

For those who have lived with ill-fitting dentures that move around and cause embarrassment when eating or talking, or those who have been self-conscious of a gap in their smile, dental implants can make a huge difference to your quality of life. You will once again be able to eat what you like, you'll get your confidence back in all manner of social situations and you won't be able to stop smiling!"

To discover more about dental implants or to find out whether they might be suitable for you, contact Lyme Bay Dentistry on 01297 442 907. We'd be more than happy to help!

Twelve months of colour subject of talk

A TALK entitled "Twelve Months of Colour" by nursery owner Neil Lovesay will take place at the Dorchester and District Gardening Club meeting on Wednesday 5th October.

Visitors very welcome.

Old boys beat youngsters in annual cricket match

THE old boys of Hardye's School, Dorchester, beat the current Thomas Hardye School XI by 25 runs in the traditional annual cricket fixture, thanks mainly to a superbly crafted innings of 78 by Ryan Chase, writes Michel Hooper-Immins.

On one of the best days of summer, the Old Hardyans held the annual cricket match against the school at Dorchester's Recreation Ground. The "Old Boys" - fielding a traditional mixture of youth and mature talent - chose to bat first in a 30 over game. Smarting from a rare defeat in last year's fixture, they started cautiously with openers Nick Roe and Simon Mitcham scoring slowly off some fine school opening bowling by Will Channon and Matt Stephens.

Dorchester's young off-spinner George Foot then joined the attack, taking two quick wickets. The highlight of the game for him occurred when he was able to dismiss his older brother Josh first ball! At 40-3 things looked shaky for the Old Hardyans, but an excellently crafted 78 by Ryan Chase and a more than useful 45 by Dan Belt - whose superb form with the bat this year saw him top the run scorers in the Premier Dorset League - allowed the Old Hardyans to post an impressive 192-7 in their 30 overs.

In reply, the School XI never really got going in the face of the experienced attack of Mark Derrien, Josh Foot and Peter Horne. Later, the wily spin of Neal Lawson and Ryan Chase pushed them well behind the required rate. However, a late flurry by Dan Morris and Ben Macklin moved them to a very creditable 167 all out in the last over.

Playing in his 40th old boys game since leaving the School in 1976, Old Hardyans captain Tony Foot said: "At least 15 of the cricketers on the pitch had played Dorset League Cricket this year. I believe this is a fitting testament to the hard work put in by Thomas Hardye School's Head of PE Gerraint Hughes."

Peter Foster, Immediate Past President of the Hardyans Club, presented the Colin Lucas Cup to Old Hardyans' captain Tony Foot, expressing his congratulations to both teams for such an entertaining game.

Founded 111 years in 1905 as the Old Grammarians, the Old Hardyans - also known as the Hardyans Club- is one of the most successful old school associations in the county, bringing together the old boys of Dorchester Grammar School and Hardye's School, plus ex-students of the modern Thomas Hardye School.

In the times of Queen Elizabeth I, it was Thomas Hardye, described as a Yeoman of Frampton, who endowed Dorchester Grammar School in 1569. Hardye's shopping arcade today stands on the site.

Thousands 'sail on' in memory of Olympic star Bart

GABRIEL O'DONNELL and Tymon Graja

YOUNG supporters enjoy the day

By Claire Vera

THE third Bart's Bash event took place at the weekend with sailing clubs around the globe taking part in a race in memory of Andrew "Bart" Simpson, the Olympic sailing gold medallist who was killed while training in San Francisco Bay in May 2013.

Weymouth and Portland Sailing Academy was just one of 362 clubs and sailing venues in 58 countries hosting this year's event. The record-breaking race is thought to be the largest in the world. Among those attending were Rio 2016 gold medallists Hannah Mills and Saskia Clark who are still coming to terms with their Women's 470 win and Saskia's subsequent retirement.

Saskia is now taking up a new role working for the Andrew Simpson Sailing Foundation.

"Bart's Bash is our flagship event and it's a great fun day out," she said.

"It's a day for friends and family to get together, enjoy the water and remember Andrew and it is also to get as many new people involved as possible – a chance to give sailing a go, see if you like it and maybe take up a new sport," said Saskia.

Hannah Mills said: "We all knew Bart really well. He was with us at the London Olympics and he was a great inspiration to all of us. It's amazing to have a special day each year to remember him and get out on the water and get new people out on the water. To see people having fun is what he was really passionate about and it's nice to be able to emulate that. It's pretty astonishing to see what the charity has done in the past couple of years. It's inspirational and it makes me proud to be part of the sailing community."

Autumn folk at Dorchester Arts

FOLK MUSIC fans are in for a treat this September, as Dorchester Arts presents two of the finest folk acts on the touring circuit. Miranda Sykes and Rex Preston will perform a spine-tingling set on Saturday, September 24th, and just a week later Southern Tenant Folk Union (Friday, September 30th) offers its own take on the genre - both are the high-quality performances that local folk music aficionados have come to expect from Dorchester Arts' music strand.

A sought after duo on the English folk and roots scene, Miranda Sykes (best known as a member of the legendary Show Of Hands) and Rex Preston specialise in contemporary and narrative songs that showcase their amazing musical partnership at its best. The combination of soul-searching double bass and flamboyant mandolin offers a wonderful new musical experience, especially when experienced live.

Very different, the six musicians of Southern Tenant Folk Union sold out in Dorchester three years ago, and the group is looking forward to returning to celebrate its new album - Join Forces - and delight its many fans. This is a great chance to hear them sing and play folk/bluegrass live - high energy folk at its best!

Dorchester Arts Artistic Director Mark Tattersall said 'Folk is always an important part of our musical offer, and this month we are delighted to be presenting two great talents from the folk scene. Whatever your favourite style, come along and enjoy two evenings of sheer talent.'

Kinetics – moving theatre taken to new heights

WHAT can a teenage boy who is into free running and a middle-aged woman with Parkinson's possibly have in common?

The desire to move...

Kinetics is based on the remarkable true story of two people seemingly at polar opposites. As Rose tries to come to terms with her diagnosis, an unlikely friendship springs up when Lukas literally lands on her doorstep. But will the bond between them be strong enough when things go wrong?

With brilliant writing, dynamic projected images and live parkour, this play is personal, poignant and will make you laugh out loud.

The show comes to the Marine Theatre this Thursday, September 22nd at 7.30pm. Tickets are £12 (£11 concessions) available by calling 01297 442138 or by visiting www.marinetheatre.com.

SharkLegs set hearts a-flutter at The Lyric

WINNERS of the prestigious Les Enfants Terribles Award 2016, theatre company SharkLegs made their new show 'The Inevitable Heartbreak of Gavin Plimsole' earlier this year at The Lyric. They then presented it at Edinburgh Festival in August - having tried it out with Lyric audiences first, and whose comments helped shape the direction it took. Come and see the finished show, as they bring it back to The Lyric this Friday, September 23rd.

If you had a finite number of heartbeats, how would you make each beat count?

Gavin Plimsole feels a flutter in his heart: Is it heartburn? Is it that girl across the room? Or is it a malformation of his heart – a sticky, red time-bomb? Gavin is given a life-changing diagnosis. Hiding in his shed he assesses his entire life; what has he done with those beats? Which has he thrown away? And how many did he lose when she broke his heart..?

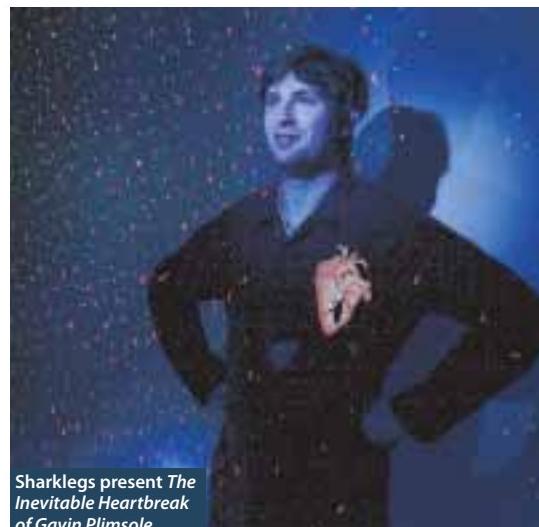

Using state-of-the-art heart rate monitors SharkLegs will measure our heartbeats and uncover how we spend each soggy, wet thump and make the most of however long we have left. This three-hander fuses technology, puppetry and performance to deal with some of the biggest issues which confront us – how do we measure our lives? How do we make our lives count?

Life-affirming and terrifying, visually arresting and strangely simple, we will find out what sets your pulse racing and send you out to see each heartbeat in a different way...

Tickets are £12, available in advance from Bridport Arts Centre: 01308 424204 / online, and BearKat Bistro, as well as on the door if available. Doors open 7:30pm for 8pm prompt start.

For more details visit www.the-lyric.com.

Spoken word master Murray at Bridport Arts Centre

PREPARE for an evening of satirical soliloquy, rock-n-roll reverie and ditty as BBC6 music resident poet Murray Lachlan Young presents his stunning new live up-close and personal show.

Murray's shows are a delightful and satirical romp into the bizarre facets of fame, fashion, people, politics, a mild erotic folk ballad and the space-time continuum. This is unique stand up poetry/spoken word performance, from one of the very best in the business.

Murray heads out on tour drawing and performing material from his new hardback collection: How Freakin' Zeitgeist Are You? along with much loved live favourites from BBC Radio.

Fresh from summer festival appearances at Glastonbury, WOMAD, Cornbury, and Port Eliot and Festival No 6, Murray kicks off October with a show at the Bridport Arts Centre.

Murray said: "In peoples minds Bridport fits neatly into that group of towns known as the muesli underground. Places of liberal thought where the occasional chillum appears from a sarong. If you go to Womad Festival you can see them all in one field."

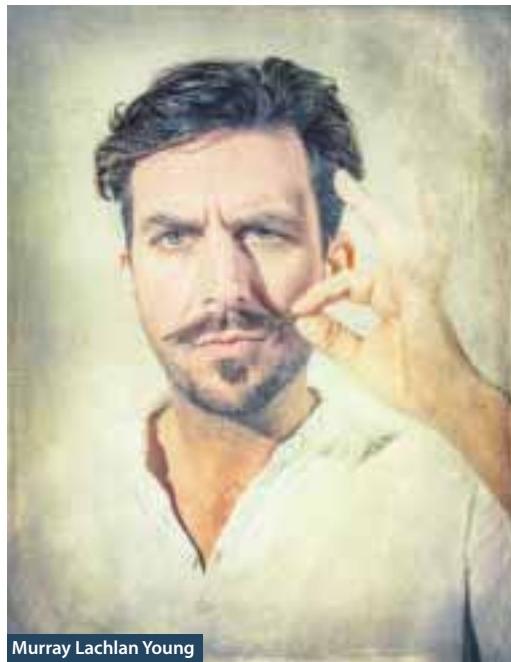

"I like Womad and I like Bridport. Occasionally, when visiting, I have to listen to AC/DC quite loud as an antidote but I'm OK with that and I know Bridport is too."

Murray Lachlan Young is an acclaimed playwright, actor, screen-writer and poet -extraordinaire. Celebrated for his hybrid mix of stand-up comedy with delightful commentaries on the weirdness of contemporary life, so expect flamboyant, punchy wit, brooding subtext and empathetic humour. Mick Jagger recently presented Keith Richards with a CD of Murray's poem, marking the anniversary of Keith falling out of a coconut tree.

Murray Lachlan Young performs at Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, October 21st at 8pm.

Tickets cost £12 (£10 concessions) and are available from www.bridport-arts.com or by calling 01308 424204.

SOUTH WEST PROPERTY TO SHOWCASE IN LONDON EXHIBITION

AUTUMN
WESTCOUNTRY
PROPERTY EXHIBITION
LONDON
6th OCTOBER 2016

To include your property
FREE of charge, please contact your local agent.

the Experts in Property
80 agents in the South West

PROPERTY for sale with the 80 offices of the Experts in Property across Cornwall, Devon, Dorset, Somerset and Bristol will be showcased at an exhibition in London next month.

the Experts in Property Autumn Exhibition will take place at the prestigious and very busy High Street offices of leading Hammersmith and Fulham estate agency, Lawsons & Daughters, on Thursday 6th October. The exhibition starts at 2pm and will run till 7pm for the convenience of those unable to attend during the working day.

Lawsons & Daughters has given over its impressive front office showroom and dedicated the whole of its window display to the exhibition, which is also being promoted in various national and regional property publications as well as Metro, the Evening Standard and through social media.

Taking Westcountry properties directly to buyers in the capital and surrounds, the network holds regular events in London, the top location of people searching for property in the region. Its last event was a huge success with visitors looking for a diverse mix of property to move into and as investments as well as boltholes and holiday homes.

Local property experts from some of the 80 offices will be travelling to London to attend the exhibition, to answer questions about our beautiful region and show details of specific properties to potential buyers.

Edition 18 of Distinctly Westcountry, the network's glossy magazine and home of distinctive property in the region, will be published to coincide with the exhibition. Copies will be available at the event and afterwards at Lawsons & Daughters as well as offices of the Experts in Property throughout the five counties.

Steve Moir, chairman of the Experts in Property, said: "We are pleased to once again work in conjunction with Lawsons & Daughters. The location of their office is fantastic, very accessible and easy to find, just a short walk from Fulham Broadway Underground Station and in one of London's most popular residential areas close to Knightsbridge and Chelsea."

Brian Corson, director of Lawsons & Daughters, said: "There is an upward trend of Londoners moving away from the hustle and bustle and the Westcountry is a popular destination, particularly for retirees, young families and those who work from home. We're very pleased to once again host the exhibition."

To have your property taken directly to affluent buyers in London, speak to your local office of the Experts in Property. As an added bonus, the network is currently running an Autumn Giveaway with a top prize of £2,500 to spend in John Lewis – home owners who have their local office conduct a free, no obligation sales or rental valuation on their property are eligible to enter. Big for the price of small: All-new Ford KA+ offers outstanding space, economy and driving fun

THE all-new Ford KA+ compact car delivers outstanding interior space, excellent fuel efficiency and fun-to-drive dynamics at an affordable price.

Joining Ford's small-car line-up alongside the best-selling Fiesta,* the KA+ provides an attractive new alternative for buyers who want a spacious, well-equipped and high-quality small car at a price point starting at £8,995.

"Ford has a long history of offering affordable small cars that are practical, economical and fun-to-drive," said Jim Farley, executive vice president and president, Europe, Middle East and Africa, Ford Motor Company. "KA+ is true to that tradition, packing a huge amount into a compact car that delivers agile driving dynamics and a comfortable interior with class-leading front headroom and rear legroom."

Consumer demand for affordable small cars is increasing in Europe, with price, fuel efficiency and comfort among the leading factors in decision making. Sales of 410,000 small cars priced under €13,000 in 2015 accounted for 13 per cent of the small car segment – itself expected to account for 34 per cent of vehicles sales across the region by 2020.

Generous space for five

The all-new Ford KA+ is a five-door hatchback based on Ford's global small-car platform, and offers generous space for five people at an overall length of less than four metres.

The KA+ is slightly shorter than the Fiesta, but 29 millimetres taller. The interior features, seats, door panels and roof headliner are optimised to provide class-leading front headroom of 1,002mm, rear legroom of 896mm and rear hip room of 1335mm. The spacious interior delivers enough room for a two metre tall passenger to sit behind a two metre tall driver.

The KA+ provides outstanding everyday practicality with 270 litres of luggage space – enough to accommodate two large suitcases – plus 60/40 split-folding rear seats, and 21 stowage locations for small items throughout the cabin.

Stowage areas include MyFord Dock in the centre of the instrument panel that enables occupants to store, mount and charge mobile devices such as phones and navigation systems, and front door bins that can each hold a 1.0-litre bottle, a 0.6-litre bottle and a small umbrella. A hidden stowage bin within the end of the instrument panel is only accessible when the driver's door is open, allowing valuables to be hidden out of sight. Driver and passengers can stow drinks easily with two cupholders for both the front and rear seat rows.

Taking inspiration from Ford's latest design language, the stylish, well-proportioned exterior features the distinctive high-mounted trapezoidal grille with large, swept-back headlamps. All KA+ models offer a smart, integrated finish with chrome detailing for the front grille, together with body-coloured bumpers, door handles and door mirrors. A two-piece rear fascia with black insert adds character specifically for European models and also reduces replacement costs in the event of low-speed accident damage.

The interior features an attractive grained finish on the instrument panel and hard-wearing, contemporary trim materials in a stylish dark charcoal colour scheme. Distinctive chrome accents are applied in tactile and highly visible areas such as the door release handles, centre console control knobs and air vents.

Lyme Regis Gig Club

Best ever showing from A team at Newquay

THE weekend of September 10th/11th brought one of the most fiercely contested events in the Cornish Pilot Gig racing calendar, when 99 of the South West's leading Ladies gig crews battled it out at the Newquay Ladies County Championships.

The racing took place off the harbour wall and was held over two days. Starting on Saturday with a series of qualifying heats each of which saw six Ladies crews competing around a 1.8 mile triangular course.

The quarter, semi and finals were staged on the Sunday.

The first two gigs from each race automatically went through to the next round plus a proportion of the fastest losers.

Newquay Club hosted the very first County Championships in 1970 with their three gigs but since then the sport has grown to such a degree that they now borrow 14 gigs from other Clubs. Lyme's Rebel was one of these.

Each crew compete in randomly selected and unfamiliar gigs, which is a bit of a lottery as some of the boats can be in better race condition than others.

The weather for this year's Newquay Championships was sunny with a southerly off-shore wind, a slight swell and ebbing tide. However, Saturday saw the wind and swell increase as the day went on which gave the early starters an advantage.

Lyme Regis' A crew had their best-ever Newquay Championships, fighting their way through the qualifying heats, coming second in their first heat and in their second heat only missing a place in the quarter finals by three seconds.

Lyme Regis A crew's overall final position was an excellent 25th.

The Lyme B crew raced valiantly in worsening conditions but were knocked out in the first round.

The Championships were eventually won by Caradon A who are also the Isles of Scilly 2016 World Pilot Gig Champions.

Newquay A came in second and Fowey Third.

Lyme Regis are fielding three teams in the Men's Newquay Championships, which are taking place this weekend.

Bridport Bowls

Title won after late drama

BRIDPORT clinched the Dorset Women's League Division One in dramatic fashion last Tuesday with skip Rosemary Brooks having to win the last end with her final ball in gathering gloom.

Bad weather earlier in the day had seen Bridport having to travel to Blandford in late afternoon to play what was the title decider.

Bridport led their hosts by three points going into this final game of the season, and with 10 points at stake, they needed to secure at least five to take the title.

With Lyn Craddock, Mary Eastman, Laura Taylor & Pat Cornick having lost 11-20, and Frances Hewett, Sheila Jones, Alison Tibble & Melodie Watts winning 21-12, the scores were level at 32-32 with both sides claiming two points each for the win.

It all depended on the third rink where there was one end to play. Pamela Daters, Gill Hunt, Marion Carter & Rosemary Brooks had held a two shot lead going into it, but needing just a draw to take the title, they found themselves four down with Brooks' final wood to come.

It was getting dark as the skip played her last wood, and with everyone holding their breath, it slowly crawled into the middle of their opponents bowls and touched the jack to give Bridport victory and the championship.

Bridport Ladies B played their last Division Two game of the season at Dorchester B and, with one player short, were soundly beaten 35-57 despite only playing 15 ends in poor weather, to finish well adrift at the bottom. It's been a difficult season for the team, but with several new members getting experience they should do better next year.

Scores; Liz Newman, Chris Robbins, Margaret Strange & Marion Tocher 17-10; Mary Marsh, Pam Gray, Jean Seardon & Delphine Street 11-21; Janet Bird, Jill Willcox & Jan Tattershall 7-26.

The men were successful after bad weather had caused the postponement of their Percy Baker Cup final against Dorchester the previous Saturday, but that didn't deter them and they won comfortably 70-58.

Craig Bosher, Mike Smith, Bob Taylor & Brian Rumble scored three on the last end to draw 21-21, whilst Chris Taylor, Ben Jones, Tom Tocher & Chris Thorne recovered after trailing 4-17 at the 10th, and ended with a good run in to finish 19-21. However, Brian Iverson, Keith Brooks, Barry Shortland & Brian Conisbee excelled with an impressive 30-16 win to take the title.

President's Day was a great success with friendly bowing and a splendid meal. With over 40 prizes, the raffle, together with donations, was added to the Julia's House money bringing the total to over £1000.

A busy week started with a 102-121 defeat against tourists Spread Eagles. Top rink was Chris Hall, Michael Hangman, Dave Smith & Paul Table.

With five out of the six rinks winning, Bridport won the friendly against Heavytree Tourists 133-99. David Gundry, Geoff Strange, Michael Craddock & Steve Bartlett were top rink 25-11.

With the last two matches being cancelled, the competitive season ended with Finals Weekend (results next week).

Lathay leads them home in Medal

WITH PETER CROWTER

THE men's section's Sunday competition was the Defibrillator Medal and there were some pretty heart-stopping scores with 14 players carding nett scores under 70 - possibly a club record!

The conditions were obviously

very favourable and the cutting back of the deep rough has also been advantageous.

An excellent nett 64 by Phil Lathay in Division Two was the best score of the day and this was replicated by Dave Smith in Division Three where six players came in with nett scores in the 60s.

Dave Franks topped Division One with a nett 66.

The best gross score of the day came from Steve Crabb with 75.

Results: Division One - 1. Dave Franks 76-10=66, 2nd Gary Edwards 79-11=68, 3rd (acb) Steve Crabb 75-6=69.

Division Two - 1st Phil Lathay 80-16=64, 2nd (acb) Roy Gill 80-14=66, 3rd Martin Horton 79-13=66.

Division Three - 1st Dave Smith 85-21=64, 2nd Mike Huxford 89-24=65, 3rd (acb) Mannie Wellman 90-22=68.

Lathay and Smith had their handicaps cut by two strokes, Franks, Gill, Horton, Huxford and Wellman by one.

An extra Junior Medal on Saturday was won by Mannie Wellman scoring 89-23=66.

Veterans Section

SOME veterans were involved in a home match in the afternoon against Wareham so Thursday's competition was a self-entry, Single Division Stableford.

There were some good scores turned in by the 39 entrants with

◆ WELL DONE: Joan Holt presents the ex-captains cup to the winner Liz Thompson

14 carding scores of 34 points or more. These scores were surprising because there was a stiff, north easterly breeze and conditions tricky.

Coming top of the pile by a clear two points was Bob Harding with a fine 40 points. Next were two players with 38 with Graham Toop taking the runner-up spot after count-back.

Results: 1st Bob Harding (17) 40pts, 2. (acb) Graham Toop (23) 38, 3rd Dudley Rose (28) 38, 4th Glyn Peach (28) 36, 5th (acb) Chris Roberts (21) 35.

Harding had his handicap reduced by one stroke.

The home match versus Wareham was halved 3-3. A special thank you from team captain Dave Rendell to Roy Gill who, having just finished playing in the morning competition, stepped in at the last moment to fill in a vacant place in the Bridport team.

Ladies Section by Di Neal SATURDAY saw some ladies in action in the return Broadchurch match against Clevedon.

On Tuesday thunder and lightning cancelled our ladies day.

The ex-captains played a most enjoyable game last week and were delighted that Joan Holt, who gave the cup many years ago, was able to come to the club and present it to the winner Liz Thompson.

The summer pairs was won by Sue Walsh & Julie Oliver who were successful with the last putt on the 18th. Runners up were Pat Baldwin & Marion Hurley.

Indoor Bowls

Down to the wire

THE Bridport & West Dorset Indoor Bowls Evening League title will go right down to the wire and the final games of the season.

With both Canaries and Gunners winning the title is between the two.

Gunners currently hold the advantage with a far superior shot difference.

Brian Baker, Nova Varney & Martin Wilton's Gunners had a comfortable 15-5 win over Hammers, whilst the Canaries of Sylvia and Mike Fletcher & Mel Hargett fought back from 4-8 down to beat the Cherrys 12-9.

Martin Waters, Peter Hunt & Reg Dodd's Red Devils beat the Foxes 15-4 to consolidate third spot.

Norman Eccles, Phil Tattershall & Phil Hedges' Pensioners beat Spurs 11-9, whilst the Gloves comprising Bernard Perry, Millie Meech & Mike Parsons recorded an 11-6 victory over Potters.

Meanwhile, Brian Savery, Erica Sarson & Chris Clarke's Magpies scored a five on the last end to draw 11-11 with Pat Anderson, Margaret Pestelle & Tony Sharrow's Toffees.

Pugalists need one more point from their last two matches to pick up the gold medals in the Morning League after Norman Eccles, Eric White & Martin Wilton beat the Archers 14-9.

Their chances were enhanced after Divers lost 19-13 to Brian Toms, Reg Dodd & Phil Hedges' Equestrians, but they are still favourite for the silver medal spot.

The Fletcher's & Geoff Hansen's Hurlers could still catch them after a 10-7 win over the Swimmers but need to win their last two matches to stand a chance.

Bottom side Wrestlers recorded another victory with a 15-8 win over Decathletes.

Other results: Rowers 18 Fencers 8; Cyclists 13 Gymnasts 10; Swimmers 23 Wrestlers 11; Decathletes 12 Gymnasts 6.

Lyme Regis Golf

Melissa goes close in county colours

CONGRATULATIONS go to Lyme Regis Golf Club's Melissa McMahon who capped a truly momentous year by playing for Dorset in the inaugural ENGLAND GOLF CHAMPION OF CHAMPIONS played at Woodhall Spa.

Melissa was leading until the winner Catherine Roberts from Lancashire holed a 25ft putt on the last for one-over 73, to edge past Cornwall's Georgina Price, who had just chipped in for her birdie and tying with Melissa for 2nd place.

The SEPTEMBER STABLEFORD was the vehicle for a super-human effort from scratch golfer Scott Love who won Division One with 42 points - the best score of the day. His score included seven birdies and 21 points on each nine as he powered his way round.

Matthew Watson improved one place in the MIDWEEK STABLEFORD to win with 38 points. Trailing in this wake were two good scores from Andrew Dawe, (40, with a back nine of 21 points) and John Ashenhurst (39, with a spectacular front nine of 22 points) finishing 2nd and 3rd.

Matt Brotherton won Division Two with 36 points while Graham Paterson beat Andy Richardson on countback, both with 34 points.

The seniors' SEPTEMBER STABLEFORD Division One was won by Paul Galloway with 37 points from Charlie Lane, 36 and Brian Clark, 35.

Steve Percival scored consistently well on all holes to secure Division Two with 37 points, while Peter Williams and John Jones both scored 36 with Peter winning on countback.

an excellent nett 72, including a birdie on the 17th to win from Lewis Gibbons 77 and Bradley Searle 79.

Rio 2016 paralympics

Brilliant Blake blasts his way to Rio gold

PAUL Blake annihilated the field as he raced to gold in the T36 400 metres final in Rio last Friday, and in doing so claimed Britain's 50th gold medal of the 2016 Paralympics Games.

The 26-year-old who had to settle for silver in London four years ago, went one better this time as he raced to victory in a season's best time of 54.49 seconds despite the rainy conditions, beating his old adversary, Ukraine's Roman Pavlyk into second place by over a second.

Blake, from Charlton Down, Dorchester, was drawn in the unfavourable outside lane which meant that he could see none of his rivals inside him, whilst Pavlyk, who finished third behind him in 2012, had the inside lane.

However, it was the Pole Krzysztof Ciukszza that Blake saw just ahead of him on the top bend as the stammer began to unravel with 120m to go, but he kept his cool and as Ciukszza began to tire, Blake accelerated away down the home straight to win by an incredible six metres.

Afterwards an elated but modest Blake told Channel Four: "I'm lost for words. In 2012 I was fortunate enough to get silver and bronze (800m) and I've finally done it (won gold). All the hard work this year has paid off."

He also paid tribute to his coach and his family, who were in the stadium to watch his success.

His victory was well received among the commentator's in the studio at the stadium including Iwan Thomas, himself a silver Olympic 400m winner who was extremely complementary at the way he ran the race. He said: "Paul is one of our most outstanding and experienced athletes and is very popular within the team," before claiming his own headline: "Blake is brilliant in Brazil".

However, there was disappointment the following day when he finished second behind Australian James Turner in the T36 800m.

Blake was hoping to make it a double gold in the longer distance, but had to settle for silver behind the 20-year-old who only switched from playing seven-a-side football for his country to athletics last year.

The rookie in the field, he set off at speed from the start, whilst Blake who claimed bronze in London, set off in pursuit. It was anticipated that Turner would tire as the race progressed, but despite Blake closing slightly at the start of the second lap, the Aussie maintained his pace to the finish to smash the existing world record by three seconds.

Magnanimous in defeat but as always modest he told Channel Four: "To get a silver medal, I'm really pleased with myself. I went off a bit too slowly. If I had gone off a bit quicker, I may have been held onto him. He was just better than me on the day. Congratulations to him."

"He went off pretty hard. My coach told me if he takes it out then I should go with him, and I did. But, I wasn't strong enough."

Considering he was dogged by a heel injury in the summer that put his chances of selection for Rio in doubt, the 26-year-old will feel a gold and silver was just reward. He concluded: "It's been an amazing experience."

No medal for Neill

DESPITE a valiant effort from Holly Neill, she finished out of the medals in the F41 Discus last Thursday in Rio.

The 27-year-old from Chantmarle was making her first Paralympic appearance and was hopeful of an outside chance of a medal following her bronze at the European Championships in Grosseto, Italy.

However, she could not compete against the power, particularly of the Tunisian's, and had to settle for eighth with a best throw of 23.13m, just short of her PB of 23.76m set earlier this year in Dubai.

The event was won by Raoua Tili of Tunisia with a world record throw of 33.38, over seven metres more than silver medallist Niamh McCarthy of Ireland.

◆ NOT THIS TIME: Ellie Neill was forced to settle for 8th spot in the F41 discus.

Lyme Regis Sailing Club

Bart remembered

Bart's Bash

THE annual memorial race for Andrew 'Bart' Simpson, Olympic Gold medallist for the GB team before his unfortunate death while practising for the 2012 Olympics, was sailed by teams from around the globe, all during the 24 hour time slot.

A total of 19 dinghies competed at Lyme Regis with 29 sailors from LRSC.

A measured distance is sailed by all competitors, giving a club result but also an international placing for the thousands who take part.

Inconsistent, fickle winds gave Race Officer Ian Wallace a difficult task, sailors moving well and then almost becalmed by turns, but the Bash was enjoyed by the sailors as a welcome chance to support such a worthy cause by donations.

Photos of Andrew when he visited the youth section to coach members and speak of his experiences are displayed alongside the buoyancy aid.

Commodore Jerry Rook thanked Crispin Read-Wilson for the gift - Crispin was Andrew's sailing coach at school.

There is a delay while racing is completed in countries to the west of Britain, then the placings will be published and the amount collected for the Foundation announced.

Lyne's results: 1st Dave Stubbs & Paul Aitken (RS400), 2nd Colin Walters & Simon Law (Albacore), 3rd Andy Robinson (Solo), 4th Simon Ransome Williams (Laser 3000), 5th Maggie Dunn (RS Aero), 6th Simon Clark (RS700).

The morning continued with two further series races, with Ed Stubbs beating Dave Guthrie into second place by two seconds on corrected time in the third of the day.

Ed was rightly thrilled with such an excellent result, heading the fleet.

Lyme ladies survive with last day win

THE Lyme Regis Bowls Club's ladies have done it! A spectacular 8-2 win against Broadstone ensured that they stay up in Division One.

A big 'well done' to the Ladies who have played in the Edna Paisley league this season. Usually languishing near the bottom in previous years, this year they finished a very creditable 3rd.

Results: Dorset Ladies Div 1; Lyme 49 Broadstone 44 - S Bond, J Bishop, J Parsons, P Weech 19-15; J Kesterton, S Wood, C Barber, N Stephens 20-13; J Moffitt, C Pomeroy, S Rowe, A Allman 10-16.

Friends: Lyme 69 Seaton 106 - M Bartlett, M McAlpine, S Wood, B Rattenbury 14-20; B Downes, P Knight, N Bond, P Weech 16-13; F Sell, S Bond, A Nabarro, B Parsons 15-18; B Smith, D Courtenay-Smith, J Parsons, D Wood 9-30; M Knight, T Payne, J Kesterton, S Pomeroy 15-25.

Lyne 118 Topsham 92 - P Knight, T Payne, S Wood, P Weech 16-17; J Moffitt, B Driscoll, A Nabarro, N Stephens 19-12; B Downes, P Stephens, J Beadsley, Chas Barber 18-13; L Young, D Courtenay-Smith, R Turpin, B Parsons 22-19; T Young, N Driscoll, J Parsons, P Moffitt 23-14; N Solomon, J Kesterton, D Wood, B Rattenbury 20-14.

The past weekend was finals weekend for all the in-house competitions.

First up were the ladies and men's 4 wood draw pairs.

Angela Rattenbury & Chris Barber beat Frances Sell & Nola Stephens 24-13 while Philip Stephens & Steve Pomeroy defeated Mick Heneghan & Alan Weech 22-18.

Next up was the men's 2 wood singles between league compatriots Paul Pomeroy and Steve Chant with the former running out a comfortable winner at 16-11.

Now for the 'Rocky,' between Don Meylan and Alan Nabarro. At 22-20, Don needing 25 and Alan 21 on handicap, Don finally got back into the zone with 3 singles to clinch the game.

The ladies 'Fillies', for ladies of a certain age, was between Chris Barber and Nola Stephens. Nola was dominant throughout in a comprehensive win 18-9.

On Saturday it was the married couples, which is always certain to give entertainment. This contest was between the Woods and the Pomeroy's. Dave & Sue Wood got off to a good start, leading 12-6 after 10 ends, but were reeled in by Steve & Chris Pomeroy who, with a six on the 14th end, went on to win by a margin of 25-17.

On Sunday The Ladies invitation involved three of the Pomeroy family. Paul and his mum Chris were up against dad Steve and Pam Weech. Paul & Chris got off to the best start but both teams were soon locked in a war of attrition, so much so, that at 20 ends the scores were tied at 21-21. Steve & Pam were the final victors securing 2 on the last end.

The 2 wood open pairs was between Frances Sell & Chas Barber and Alan Foster & Barry Rattenbury. Foster & Rattenbury couldn't buy a shot for 7 ends and soon found themselves 11-0 adrift.

It has to be said that both leads were struggling for consistency leaving Chas & Barry slugging it out at the back end.

Fortunes slowly changed and Foster & Rattenbury were back in contention at 11-14 after 18 ends. At 13-15 after 20 ends there must have been some sweaty palms. Sell & Barber held their nerve and holed out at 16-13.

The three set singles, five in the final, went the distance. Don Meylan was in action again against Trevor Allman, and got off to a flying start winning the first set 7-0. He should have won the second with a 6-1 lead, but allowed Trevor back in to sneak it 7-6.

The next set went to 7-6, again in Trevor's favour but Don snagged the 4th set by 7-3 and were into a final set shoot out.

Don started with a single but immediately dropped a four before picking up another single.

Trevor changed into top gear after that and closed out the match with three successive singles.

Sunday afternoon and it's time for all the 4 wood single's finals.

In the ladies handicap, Ann Allman took on Jan Parsons both playing off 7.

Despite a strong start from Jan, she was quickly overtaken by Ann, both ladies playing some superb bowls. At 18-5 Ann looked in control but Jan made a brief rally to pull back to 19-11 before finally succumbing at 21-11.

In the Men's handicap, Steve Pomeroy was looking to capitalise on his morning's success up against Chas Barber who was giving Steve a two shot start.

Steve never seemed to get going, and Chas was always in charge of this game with Steve stuck on three for seven ends. Chas finally wrapped up the game at 17-8.

In the ladies championship, Pam Weech was again in action against Chas Barber.

Pam suffered the same fate as her invitation partner Steve and didn't really turn up for this match.

Chris was playing with good line and length and Pam wasn't able to match her and in the end, yielded to superior play on the day. Chris ran out a very comfortable winner at 21-9.

Now the men's championship between Paul Pomeroy and Don Meylan. After his marathon 34-end match in the morning, Don's playing was a revelation.

Paul had little answer to Don's consistent and accurate drawing and, the little runner to great effect when needed.

Paul had little of his usual success with his weighted woods with Don invariably being on the better end of these exchanges.

Don held his nerve and his concentration, and that's difficult, and was a very worthy winner at 21-14.

Bees news

Spirited Bees fall to high-flying Farm

Bridport 1 Bristol Manor Farm 3

Toolstation Premier – att; 100

BRIDPORT might feel aggrieved that they didn't take a point at home to Bristol Manor Farm on Saturday.

They gave a solid display that, had they not been reduced to ten men midway through the second half, might have at least salvaged a point having been two goals down at half time.

Farm came confident of victory, and their experienced side were combative, but Bridport matched them for long periods with keeper Ashley Clark far busier than Bees glove-man Jason Hutchings.

There was a blow before kick-off with the news that captain Ryan Hayter, who made his long awaited return at Wells City on Tuesday, was unable to take his place in the centre of defence due to an impact injury, although he is confident he will be fit for selection next week.

However, new signing James Regan made his home debut at right back, with Matty Condliffe switching to the left berth.

The visitors had first strike at goal, but Aaron Robbins' header was straight at Hutchings, but another corner in the 11th minute brought them a goal. Pete Sheppard's low kick evaded everyone before finding Martin Stowell who stabbed it home from close in.

Ed Butcher once again showed electrifying pace down the left and fired in a low cross that just evaded the inrushing Mark Salter.

Midway through the half Louis Rutter was unlucky not to equalise when his header from a corner beat Clarke but was headed off the line. The Bees now started to take command and wonderful interplay across the top of the penalty area involving Tom Blair and Salter saw Rutter's fierce shot pushed away by Clarke. The ball rebounded to Blair whose volley was well saved by the recovering Farm keeper.

Bridport's superiority niggled the visitors, and on the half hour a series of fierce tackles ended in a skirmish in which Jack Durrant, Stowell, Rutter and Leigh Bailey were cautioned by referee Stephen Graham.

Bridport continued on the offensive with Farm making errors but on 33 minutes they caught the Bees on the break and a defence splitting ball from Jake Cox gave Sheppard a free run and he cleverly sent the advancing Hutchings the wrong way with an angled finish.

Bridport, needing to get back in the game, attacked from the start of the second half and got their reward on 54 minutes when Bailey nodded down Butcher's corner and Rutter swept the ball home from close range.

Farm were on the ropes and a minute later Salter pulled the ball back to the far post where Blair's goalbound volley struck a defender.

It appeared only a matter of time before Farm would crack, but on 64 minutes Bridport were reduced to 10 men, as it appeared Durrant's constant aggravation and apparent playacting finally paid off as Rutter was dismissed for elbowing him in another altercation.

Despite this setback they continued to look for an equaliser, and Salter fired over before Farm struck the killer third goal on 73 minutes to effectively end the contest.

Jordan Metters' curling free kick found Robins unmarked on the penalty spot and he deftly steered his header into the bottom corner.

This took the wind out of Bridport's sails and they had to thank Hutchings for preventing a fourth when he was quick off his line to block George Boon's effort.

There was further disappointment for the hosts when Andy Martin had to leave the field with a dislocated shoulder in the latter stages after he was unfairly pulled to the ground as he shielded the ball over the goal line; the Farm player escaping punishment.

Reflecting on the game, manager Adam Fricker said: "I thought we were excellent and very unlucky, and if we hadn't had a man sent off, I was confident we could have got an equaliser and possibly gone on to win it. It's frustrating."

On the sending off he said: "Louis is disappointed with himself and apologised to the lads for what he did. I'm not going to hold it against him; it was in the heat of the moment."

"However, there were plenty of positives we can take from the game. It was disappointing we've come away with nothing, but the lads need to take that into the next game and build on it."

"They (BMF) are an experienced team and will be near the top at the finish and we couldn't have asked more from the lads today, and hopefully we can build on that performance."

Baird who hobbled off 10 minutes from time having suffered cramp, was praised by the Bees boss: "He was just cramped up, but had put in a fantastic display."

On Martin's injury he said: "It's a massive blow, because Andy's been doing really well, but it's a common thing for him, but he usually comes back from it quite quickly."

Bridport have received seven-days notice of approach from Chard Town for Will Spurway, and from Willand for Ed Butcher.

◆ BUSY GAME: Louis Rutter scored and was then sent off

but Bridport persisted and were rewarded on 79 minutes when Tom Blair skipped down the right wing before whipping in the perfect cross for the experienced Mark Salter to comfortably convert with a positive header.

Inspired by this the Bees finished strongly and might have snatched all three points but for two excellent saves from City's keeper, although that would have been unfair.

Fricker agreed that neither side deserved to lose.

"It wasn't a classic to be fair, but we showed quite a lot of character to dig in and fight back twice and could have won it in the end to be honest, although I think with the chances both teams had, a draw was a fair result."

"There were positive signs from our point of view, the biggest being that Ryan (Hayter) played all 90 minutes and doesn't appear to have any reaction. He showed that little bit of experience that we've been lacking which was really pleasing."

Fricker also had encouraging words about Tom Blair saying: Tom did really well for us pre-season but the suspension he had at the start of the league programme he appeared to lose a bit of his match fitness, but he showed again what a good player he is, and what a bright future he has ahead."

With reference to the signing of Reagan the Bees boss said: "He's been playing cricket until now and hasn't had time to get up to speed at Taunton, so has come across for a couple of months and we will see where it goes from there."

Bees battle back at Wells

Wells City 2 Bridport 2

Toolstation Premier – att; 48

BRIDPORT produced a battling performance at Somerset last Tuesday to claim a point against Wells City after twice falling behind.

With several players carrying injuries and Kris Hastings having moved to Sherborne Town, manager Adam Fricker signed Taunton Town's James Regan on dual registration forms just before kick-off.

The 22-year-old midfielder/full back who is also a talented cricket having played for Somerset, was immediately drafted into the starting side along with Ryan Hayter.

The club captain who has been sidelined this season due to a hip injury, successfully came through a run-out with the club's third team on Saturday, and took his place in the centre of defence.

The hosts took the lead which they held until halftime, but Bridport equalised in the 56th minute when wing back Adam Barrett kept his composure after breaking through, to round the keeper and slot home.

However Wells hit back to lead once again, but Bridport persisted and were rewarded on 79 minutes when Tom Blair skipped down the right wing before whipping in the perfect cross for the experienced Mark Salter to comfortably convert with a positive header.

Inspired by this the Bees finished strongly and might have snatched all three points but for two excellent saves from City's keeper, although that would have been unfair.

Annets: No complaints

Swanage Town & Herston 2

Bridport Reserves 0

Dorset Premier League

BRIDPORT manager Shaun Annets admitted his side were well beaten at Day's Park on Saturday and that the margin of defeat could have been more.

"After a bright start they put us to the sword for the next half hour and in truth could have had more. We changed our formation after an hour and things improved slightly, but they are a good side, and will be in the top six come the end of the season."

With captain Dan Pearn at a wedding, and Alan Hill called up to the first team, the Bees boss gave debuts to left back Nathan Storey, the 18-year-old brother of Exeter City's Jordan, Dean Hyett and Christoph Kurzmann, an Austrian who can play in the back or as a holding midfielder. This called for a reshuffle and a new look back four with Luke King the only experienced defender.

Bridport got off to a good start and looked lively but Swanage took over and put them under extreme pressure. Quicker and sharper in every department, they got the ball wide as Bridport failed to close them down and allowed them to play.

Keeper Billy Fleet was forced to do a lot of sweeping at the back as the Swans played balls through and over the defence.

One ball over the top saw Fleet rush from goal but his clearance struck an inrushing forward and rebounded to Graeme Rose who rolled the ball into an empty net.

Five minutes later the defence failed to shut down Rose and he had time to pick his spot with a curling 25-yarder shot which Fleet got his fingertips to but couldn't prevent going into the top corner.

Stern words from Annets at the interval saw a marked improvement without really threatening the home defence. On the hour a change of formation saw Josh Hunter receive more support up front and the Bees did create a couple of half chances but Swans ran out comfortable winners.

Annets said: "In the first half we were poor and it could have been more. There was an improvement in the second half but we were well beaten by a good Swanage side."

"We need to improve our sharpness and fitness, and hope we can get back to winning ways at home to bottom side Cranborne on Saturday (3pm)."

Kamara hat trick as Bees buzz

Shillingstone 1 Bridport A 8

Dorset Division Four

BRIDPORT A made light work of Shillingstone who had already conceded 12 in losing their two opening Dorset League Division Four games.

Ali Kamara opened the scoring and soon added a second before Callum Middleton added a fine goal to make it 3-0 at half time.

Bridport increased their lead after the interval as Kamara secured his hat trick.

Sam Handside soon added another with a fine shot and secured his brace with a fine individual goal after weaving his way past six Shillingstone challenges.

Jaydon Scadding converted number seven from the penalty spot and Jake Rowland completed the Bees scoring before the home side netted a late consolation.

Convincing home start for Blues

Bridport 1st xv 45 Salisbury 24

ON a bright September afternoon Bridport opened their home league campaign on a bright Saturday afternoon.

Salisbury had the kick off with the sun and wind behind, but very quickly Bridport were pressuring in their half and in the fifth minute the ball came out to Ricky Stubbs who ran straight through the backs to, before off-loading to Al McNab to cross for try which was converted by Rory Greening.

From the restart the hosts were unfortunate to concede a penalty in the maul, but Salisbury were unable to reach the line and a good catch allowed Freddy Woolner to run through the opposition and put another points on the board and Greening converted.

With most of the first half played in the Salisbury end it was inevitable that the pressure would pay off so it wasn't long before David Cutting touched down for another try.

The a Salisbury attack was snuffed out by Ricky Stubbs for a line out which Bridport won and Freddy Woolner ran through fro another Greening-converted try.

◆ PROTECTING THE LINE: Match action from Bridport's Dorset & Wilts Division two (South) 45-24 win over Salisbury

The visitors did break their duck before the interval but Bridport led 19-5.

Salisbury improved after the break, but some excellent Bridport defeding over 10 phases held them at bay before the dam broke and the visitors crossed the white-wash for a second time.

The hosts responded well and the boot of Greening was in action again converting a Mitch Waters touchdown after a good pass from Kieran Hurry.

With Bridport now well in front, and with some replacements due to injury, Salisbury managed to put on another 14 points.

Then in the dying minutes Bridport had forced an excellent breakthrough with RStubbs moving the ball out to Woolner to a jubilant Jason Blackmore who went over for his first try, and another successful conversion gave Bridport a convincing 21 point lead at full time.
